

Alexandria Gazette

WEDNESDAY EVENING, APRIL 4.

A REGULAR "JO TANKER."—Jack Dade was born in King George—a regular "Jo Tanker." He was a whole-souled, outspoken, candid speaking, Davy Crockett sort of a fellow, with nerve to say what he thought, and meant all he said.

Jack was a whig, and a great admirer and friend of John Tyler before he "flopped." The day after Tyler succeeded Gen. Harrison as President, Jack Dade stalked into the White House unceremoniously and warmly grasping his friend Tyler by the hand, said: "John, I have come for an office, and I'm not going back to King George without one." The President relaxing somewhat the dignity that became his exalted station and the circumstances that made him President, asked Mr. Dade what kind of an office he wanted.

Jack promptly replied: "John, I want an office—a kind of sinecure—(emphasizing the last syllable) an office with plenty of pay and d—little work."

Mr. Tyler thought for awhile, and remembering a vacancy existed in the jailorship at Washington, at once appointed Jack to the position.

Jack was prompt to qualify, and when he entered upon the discharge of the official duties, summoned the acting assistant before him and gave directions to have the prisoners drawn up in line as he wished to make their acquaintance. His first order was promptly obeyed, and the assistant escorted Warden Dade into the presence of the prisoners, when, after making them a polite bow, he proceeded to deliver himself of the following unique address: "Gentlemen, hear me! You see before you your future jailor. I was born a gentleman, and d—me if I will associate with people who ain't like me. I intend to treat you like gentlemen, and will require the same of you. The first d—man that treats me otherwise, gentlemen! d—me, if I don't kick him clear out of his place."

Jack Dade was the most popular jailor Washington ever had.—Fredericksburg Free Lance.

The capital stock of this company is $625,000, divided into 625,000 shares of $1 each.

The company is incorporated under the laws of West Virginia, and the stock is non-assessable, and carries with it no personal liability to the holder.

THE GOLD MINING COMPANY (location, Music Mountains, A. T.) is as sound a mining enterprise as was ever placed on the market, and its possibilities have never been exceeded. Every share should double in value within a year, and they may quadruple, as they are based on property that would ordinarily have been capitalized ten (10) times as great on account of its known richness and promise.

The shares are made small so that any one can invest. Subscriptions for five shares are as welcome as those for hundreds.

Every dollar of earnings will go to the stockholders in dividends, as there is nothing else that they can be used for.

A Wisewell mill, capacity 20 tons per day, with powerful machinery, has been purchased and will be on the ground ready for erection at the mine within the next thirty days.

The solid basis upon which the company is founded and the practical proofs of the richness of the mine have already secured the confidence of the public, and the stock has steadily advanced in selling value. Within the last few days bona fide sales have been made AT PAR.

There is no better stock on the market for a permanent investment. For full information in regard to this Mine apply to the
